

April 8, 2016

Dear Mr. Feldman,

Thank you so much for bringing your team of attorneys to our school to deliver and explain your message about the consequences and dangers of Distracted Driving. The presentation was outstanding! Your entire team knows how to best communicate with young people, balancing information, humor, and empathy. Our students were interested and engaged during the entire presentation. Best of all, a few weeks out, students are still wearing the End Distracted Driving bracelets. I love the way you talked to them about easy ways to approach their friends to change behavior. You used just the right amount of research data to offer evidence to the students, but did not overdo it with statistics. The team of students who initially connected with you to bring the presentation to our school report a very real change in their driving habits and in the habits of their friends.

Your message is crucial and I hope that every school has the opportunity to experience your presentation. Again, thank you for sharing your message so effectively with our student body.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads "Karen Martin".

Karen Martin

Associate Director of Student Services