Dear Mr. Feldman,

Thank you so much for speaking with our entire student body on Tuesday, May 7, 2019. Over 1100 students benefited from the information you explained and were moved by your personal story. The message you delivered was important and impactful and very well received by our students. You instantly captured their attention and involved the students and teachers throughout your presentation. Many teachers have reported to me that your presentation sparked valuable discussions in the classes following the assembly. Not only did you connect with the students on a very emotional level, you provided facts about distracted driving and tangible strategies to help students stay safe. The videos embedded within the presentation were particularly engaging for the students and generated conversations long after the assembly ended.

Thank you again for sharing your story with our school and caring so much for our young people to the degree that you have dedicated your life to help others. I certainly would recommend this assembly and presentation to other organizations and schools.

Sincerely,

Beth Guarriello, Principal
